The role of a Family Support Partner (FSP) is vital to the High Fidelity Wraparound (HFW) Process. By providing an overview of the Family Support Movement, reviewing the HFW process (including the principles, the theory of change, and phases), outlining the skills needed to serve as a Family Support Partner, and providing tools for how Family Support Partners can use their experiences to help families move through the HFW process towards self efficacy, this training gives FSP's a context for their work.

This 3-day training program will offer a training certificate to those that complete the program.

Lunch will be provided for all training participants.
